Vince

We have confirmation from both vendors (Beacon and Vista Geoscience) that FedEx will be delivering the passive soil gas (PSG) samplers no later than Monday, Nov. 5.

I would like to discuss logistics for next week, including the following items:

- Location of first water well and schedule for geophysical logging
- Schedule for layout of PSG grid and deployment of PSGs
- Provision of grid map for PSG deployment

Thanks

Hi Vince

We may have a weather delay in the shipment of the PSGs for the Circle Court deployment next week (see below). I will keep you apprised.

Thanks

Jason,

To recap our earlier phone conversation:

FedEx and UPS have suspended shipping in the Mid-Atlantic region indefinitely pending the approaching hurricane. Therefore, we are currently unable to ship and don't have a definite schedule of when we will be able to resume shipping.

I will keep you informed as we gain new information regarding our shipping capabilities and can determine a definite schedule.

Best regards,
Ryan

Hi Luis,

Not a problem. Thank you for the continued opportunity to support your projects.

We will have the equipment arrive by the 2nd.

I am in Brazil this week but Ryan will contact you this week to work out the details.

Best regards,

Harry
